The diagram shows the relationship between density ($\rho$) and radius ($r$) in a logarithmic scale. The graph on the left illustrates the density profiles at different radii, with labels indicating the density values. The graph on the right depicts the velocity ($v$) profiles, highlighting the first and second shocks with dotted lines.